3. COOPERATIVE EDUCATION OVERVIEW

3.1. Introduction to cooperative education

The purpose of cooperative education program is to help you better understand how the real business world outside of the classroom functions. The co-op program at RIT Croatia provides you with the opportunity to acquire knowledge and develop practical skills through work experience that will be necessary to build your future career. Work experience and business relationships gained on co-op will become very valuable when you graduate and start searching for a job. The co-op program is mandatory for every student. Thus, you are advised to plan ahead and find your co-op. RIT Croatia will facilitate many co-op opportunities, but ultimately the responsibility of finding and completing a co-op rests with you.

3.2. Cooperative education partners

There are three main partners in every cooperative education program: employers, students and the educational institution. In order for co-op program to be successful, all three parties play an important role and derive substantial benefits from the program.

3.2.1. RIT Croatia's roles and responsibilities

RIT Croatia functions as a liaison between students and the business community. The Career Services Office is responsible for the management component of the cooperative education program, including following:

- Assistance in the co-op search process/career-related concerns;
- Individual meetings with students and assisting with CV/cover letter preparation, practicing interviewing skills, career advising;
- Providing workshops, seminars and guest speakers that cover a wide range of topics;
- Registering and evaluating students' cooperative education;
- Conducting co-op checks and monitoring students' performance during the co-op term;

- Providing guidance to students on work-related matters;
- Promoting the benefits of the academic and co-op program to perspective employers.

3.2.2. Students' roles and responsibilities

Your main role is to take responsibility for finding and completing the co-op program in order to further professional career development, including following:

- When working on co-op, you are an ambassador for RIT Croatia, thus it is crucial that you fulfill the contractual obligations and act professionally at all times;
- Optimizing the learning opportunities that appear;
- Fulfill the co-op program as per RIT Croatia co-op policies (this handbook and Cooperative Education Bylaw/Pravilnik o stručnoj praksi);
- Fulfill necessary co-op requirements before graduation;
- Use the co-op experiences to evaluate specific organizations as prospective employers and focus on the right career choice.

3.2.3. Employers' roles and responsibilities

The prospective employer serves as an educator in the workplace:

- Ensuring appropriate co-op positions that match student's field of study;
- Providing students and RIT Croatia Career Services Office with appropriate co-op guidance and performance evaluation;
- Host a visit from a Career Services Office representative during the co-op term;
- Enable students to complete their co-op requirements during the required time of the year ensuring the work tasks that match students' academic and work experience level.

3.3. Frequently asked questions

Q: What type of work qualifies for co-op?

A: The co-op position has to be related to your field of study and match your previous work experience level (if you have any). If you obtain a co-op position on your own, you need to submit the offer letter to the Career Services Office (before accepting the actual job). Once your co-op is approved, you may continue with the co-op registration process.

Q: Am I granted a co-op?

A: No. The co-op program is mandatory at RIT Croatia and the responsibility of finding and completing the co-op rests with you. Also, you are not directly placed into a co-op position, but rather you apply and go through the same hiring process you will have once you start looking for a job after graduation (which is great practice). The Career Services Office will facilitate many co-op opportunities and help you with the search and placement procedure.

Q: What is the length of a co-op?

A: The minimum co-op requirement per single co-op block is at least ten weeks at 40 hours per week (total of 400 working hours over the course of ten weeks).

Q: Do I receive a credit for co-op?

A: Standard academic credit is not given for co-op. However, you will receive a grade for a registered co-op. Based on the employer evaluation and co-op requirements, you can get two grades: “S”-satisfactory or “F”-failure. You will receive grade “S” if the minimum co-op requirements have been met and employer evaluation is satisfactory. You will receive grade “F” if the minimum co-op requirements have not been met, if employer evaluation is unsatisfactory or if the Career Services Office witnesses that during a co-op check you are not working at your registered coop.

Q: How much do I get paid?

A: Not all co-ops are paid and this varies from employer to employer. The level of co-op salary also differs and it is ultimately up to the employer to decide. Mostly, employers base it upon comparable co-op salaries and a candidate's experience. As a benchmark, below you may find the hourly rates of co-op salaries from Student Centre: Administrative jobs approximately 15-25 kn; Restaurant jobs app 16-18kn; Tourism app 16-25kn; Sales app 14-18kn; IT app 15-30kn.

Q: What happens if I do not get the co-op placement?

A: You are advised to visit the Career Services Office as soon as you feel concerned about your co-op placement. We will evaluate the co-op search, make suggestions, and provide additional service that will assist you in meeting your goals. Please make sure you address your concerns with Career Services Office at least a month before the actual co-op start date, so we can look into assisting you.

4. PLANNING AND DEVELOPING COOPERATIVE EDUCATION

4.1. Cooperative education pre-planning activities

Co-op is important part of the education at RIT Croatia. You have to be prepared for the real challenges and opportunities you will experience once you graduate. At RIT Croatia we understand how well structured cooperative education program can help you in achieving your career goals. The process of finding the right co-op placement is not always easy. Therefore, you are encouraged to take the advantage of the Career Services Office that will assist you with the co-op placement process (make sure to address your concerns in advance, so we can assist you with the process).

4.1.1. Professional development sessions and workshops

RIT Croatia will facilitate professional development sessions, guest speakers and workshops throughout the academic year. The purpose of these networking opportunities is continuous learning and bringing the job search process closer to you.

4.1.2. RIT Croatia Career Education Day(s)

RIT Croatia annually organizes Career Education Day (CED) which enables direct communication between employers and prospective employees and introduces you to the needs and opportunities of the job market. The event is taking place in the spring semester of the academic year.

Career Education Day is a one-day event full of different networking opportunities, such as: company presentations, panel discussions, workshops, booths and interviews. The dress code for the event is business formal.

4.1.2.1 Career Education Day and Interviews: Dress Code

The first impression you make on a potential employer is the most important one. Well thought-out clothing can distinguish you as a professional. You want to be perceived as polished, prepared and serious about the job. Your appearance counts as much as how you introduce yourself.

The following is a list of appropriate attire for an interview for men:

- Wear a suit with jacket
- Avoid outrageous colors or patterns, such as neon or plaid; stick to classic colors like black, navy or grey
- Long sleeve shirt (white or coordinated with the suit)
- Belt
- Tie
- Dark socks, dress shoes
- Neatly trimmed nails

The following is a list of appropriate attire for an interview for women:

- Wear pants or a skirt suit (navy, black or dark grey)
- The suit skirt should be no shorter than above the knee
- Coordinated blouse
- Close-toed professional shoes
- Limited jewelry (no dangling earrings or arms full of bracelets)
- Professional hairstyle
- Neutral pantyhose
- Light make-up and perfume
- Neatly manicured nails

Both Men and Women:

- Attend to your hygiene and wear your hair professionally
- Avoid fragrant perfumes or cologne
- Limit the exposure of tattoos and piercings
- Always iron your attire and make sure you are polished

What not to wear:

- Tennis shoes, flip-flops or evening shoes
- Jeans or shorts
- Shirts or low-cut shirts
- Colorful or patterned socks
- A backpack
- Clothes that are too tight

Remember that you can never be „overdressed“- even if you show up in a formal suit and the company's corporate culture is casual attire, do not worry as you will show that you take the company and interview seriously. On the other hand, „underdressing “can leave the wrong impression on the employer. Be sure to avoid the risk and always go ahead with safe options.

4.2. CV and cover letter

The crucial step before starting any resume and cover letter writing is to conduct a proper employer search. The search provides a better overview of the company's corporate culture, expectations and candidate profile. With more extensive search you are able to prepare a better cover letter and show higher interest during the interview. Lack of search, knowledge about industry and company is perceived as a lack of interest.

The resume and cover letter are the first forms of communication with a prospective employer and they spend an average of 20-30 seconds looking at each resume. The resume is a synopsis of the educational background, skills and achievements, activities and employment background and it should reveal relevant facts, which will serve as your personal advertisement. Thus, it is crucial that your resume is concise, accurate, well-planned and professional in appearance. Cover letters always accompany resumes and should be kept to one page.

For more resume and cover letter writing details, please refer to Career Services Office.

4.3. Interview process

The interview is the most important part of obtaining a job and can be intimidating if you do not know what to expect. What you do to prepare prior to, during and after the formal interview will help you stand out from other candidates and impress the interview committee. Basically, all interviews fit a general pattern. While each interview will differ, there are three common characteristics: the beginning, middle and conclusion. A typical structure is as follows:

- Small talk:
Many recruiters start the interview with some small talk and topics may range from weather to sports and will rarely focus on anything that brings out your skills. Through the small talks recruiters may be judging how well you communicate on an informal basis.
- A mutual discussion of your background and credentials:
The main part of the interview starts when the recruiter begins discussing the organization. Be sure you have a clear understanding of the job and the company. As the interview turns to talk about your qualifications, be prepared to deal with aspects of your background.
- Time reserved for questions:
When the recruiter asks: “Do you have any questions?” it is important to have a few ready. The questions should bring out your interest in and knowledge of the organization. By asking well-thought-out questions, you show the employer you are serious about the organization and need more information and indicate you have done your homework.
- Conclusion of the interview:
The conclusion of the interview usually lasts five minutes and is very important. During this time recruiter is assessing your overall performance.

Because of its importance, interviewing requires advance preparation. Only you can positively affect the outcome. You must be able to successfully compete with other candidates for the placement you want.

For more interview techniques and dress code details, please refer to Career Services Office.

5.4. Cooperative education registration process

5.4.1. Registering cooperative education

After you have accepted a co-op offer, you have to report your co-op information to the Career Services Office and notify the Office that you have successfully found co-op placement.

Before the beginning of a co-op semester, Career Services Office will inform you about the procedure and deadline of co-op registration.

You need to follow the procedure and submit required form(s) by the given deadline(s).

There are two different procedures for co-op approval and registration:

- Co-op placement found through RIT Croatia: The first form you will have to submit is the co-op registration form, which has to be properly signed and stamped by the employer and include accurate information. Only a properly completed registration will be taken into account and you will receive the appropriate co-op credit.
- Self-found co-op placements: The first form you will have to submit is the co-op offer letter from your employer, which has to contain all the information about your co-op placement: dates of your placement (start/end date and number of working hours per week), detailed position description, company/department, location of your co-op, mentor's position and name. The offer letter has to be properly signed and stamped by the employer and include accurate information. Once the Career Services Office approves your co-op, you can proceed with the co-op registration process. In this case, co-op registration form is the second form you will have to submit (it has to be properly signed and stamped by the employer and include accurate information).

You need to make sure the following is completed for the registration process:

- Any registration submitted after the given deadline will result in the co-op being considered invalid: co-op registration is entirely your responsibility, so it is imperative to pay attention to registration deadlines.
- In case you are doing your co-op for one employer but from different locations- this needs to be clearly indicated in the registration form (exact location matched with appropriate dates).
- Co-op registration form needs to contain accurate information: date and location of co-op, company and mentor with contact details, description of co-op position.
- If for any reason you plan to change co-op placement during the co-op semester you need to advise the Career Services Office beforehand for prior approval.
- You can take a vacation during the co-op period only if your mentor is taking a vacation and there is no other person in the company who might be mentoring you. The vacation period cannot be longer than two weeks. If you were on vacation during the co-op period, your co-op needs to be extended in order to fulfill 10 weeks requirement.
- Working from home is not considered a valid co-op.

- When taking a Leave of absence you cannot register for co-op.
- When on academic suspension you cannot register for co-op.
- If you do not meet co-op requirements (minimum number of credits needed before the start of a co-op) you cannot register for co-op.

Please be reminded that in case you do not submit co-op registration properly and on time, you will not get credit for cooperative education and will not be able to graduate until you make up the missing block(s) of cooperative education.

5.4.2. Cooperative education grading

In order to receive a grade for a registered co-op, two report forms must be submitted to the Career Services Office: Student Evaluation Report and Employer Evaluation Report. These forms should be filled out at the end of the co-op. Career Services Office will inform all students in a timely manner when the report forms are due (please make sure to follow the given deadlines and submit your reports on time). In case you are unable to submit your reports by the given deadline for some reason, please make sure to notify the Career Services Office before the official submission deadline ends. Notifications about the official deadlines will be sent during the co-op semester via e-mail, so it is crucial that you regularly check your RIT Croatia e-mail accounts.

There are two grades you can get for your co-op: S (satisfactory) and F (failure)

- S if a minimum co-op requirements (a minimum of 10 weeks and 400 hours) have been met and if you submit a satisfactory report forms within the given deadline.
- F if a minimum co-op requirements have not been met; if report forms are unsatisfactory or if during the random co-op checks Career Services Office cannot witness you are working for the registered company.

5.4.3. Cooperative education monitoring visits

The Career Services Office conducts random co-op checks, so make sure to properly register the actual place and time of your co-op.

If the Career Services Office comes to visit your co-op and discovers that you are not working at the registered place, your co-op will not be counted. Taking this into consideration, it is extremely important that you provide the correct information on the co-op registration form.

In case that during a co-op check the Career Services Office witnesses that you are working for the registered employer, but were not at the indicated location - Career Service Office will send a written visit report and require you to provide written evidence of the co-op.

In case you are doing a co-op for one employer but from different locations- this needs to be indicated on the registration form (exact location matched with appropriate dates), so that the Career Services Office is aware of the location.

If for any reason you plan to change the co-op placement during the course of co-op semester, you need to advise the Career Services Office beforehand for the approval. Once the Career Services Office has been notified and co-op change has been approved, you may start working for another employer and need to send the new registration form to the Career Services Office immediately. The transfer period between two companies cannot be longer than 5 working days. If you will have a pause (5 days maximum) while changing the company during the co-op period, your co-op needs to be extended in order to fulfill 10 weeks of the co-op requirement.

6. RIT Croatia COOPERATIVE EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

6.1. The job competition

Looking for a job is a job itself. Your search will be an effective one if you have a goal in mind, stay organized, incorporate a variety of methods and follow up. You should remember that it is never too early to start looking for a co-op. RIT Croatia has many corporate partners and the business network includes companies in various industries which enables our students to gain experience in various business fields. In cooperation with our partners the Career Services Office will facilitate co-op opportunities but you are also encouraged to look for co-op opportunities on your own. You will be notified of co-op positions facilitated through the Career Services Office via e-mail, welcome screen and/or bulletin board.

When looking for a co-op, these are the things you have to remember:

- The Career Services Office can help you prepare for a job search, help you with your CV and cover letter and assist with co-op placement;
- Make sure to check your e-mail regularly as Career Services Office will primarily use this channel to inform you of various opportunities;
- Some employers come to campus to recruit for co-op. Employers conducting on-campus interviews often give presentation about their companies and openings- these are open to everyone.

Remember that a job offer is comprised of more than a salary. You are advised to carefully weigh all the important factors like the nature of work, corporate culture, typical work week, location when considering the offer and should not hesitate to discuss any concerns you may have with the Career Services Office.

Once you accept a co-op offer, even verbally, you cannot back out, or renege on the job to work for another employer. Reneging on an offer could damage your chances of future employment with that company. Thus, it is strongly advised to discuss offers thoroughly with employers to understand the terms and reach a mutually acceptable date to respond to their offer. If you need more time to consider other offers, request extension from the employer, but keep in mind that you must obey the deadline dates that you have agreed upon. You should notify employer that you are accepting or rejecting an offer as soon as you make your decision - never later than the arranged date.

Any student who accepts co-op position and later “changes his mind” or does not report to work will be subject to disciplinary action from RIT Croatia. Terms of such disciplinary measure will be set by the Student Ombudsperson and the Associate Dean.

6.2. Study abroad (Global Scholars) and cooperative education

RIT Croatia students have the opportunity to spend up to two semesters studying abroad at RIT's main campus (Rochester, NY) and RIT Dubai. While you are studying abroad, you are encouraged to focus on your course load and engage in campus activities.

RIT's main campus allows Global Scholars to hold only part time jobs (max 20 working hours per week). You can apply for these positions prior to your arrival at the RIT campus. You will not be eligible for off campus employment.

While studying at RIT Dubai you will be able to work part time on the campus, but will need a special permission to work off campus.

You may continue your summer co-op after a semester of studying abroad at both RIT main campus and RIT Dubai, but you will have to make visa and co-op arrangements prior to your departure in order to have the proper visa type and paperwork resolved in time. If on J1 visa during Global Scholar program, you are eligible to work in the USA for the same length of time that you were full time student. If on F1 visa, you are not eligible to do co-op after one semester of study abroad, but only after two semesters. It is extremely important for you to keep this in mind when making plans for study abroad/international co-op experience and notify the Career Services and International Student Office from the moment you make this decision (as you need to pick the proper visa type when submitting your application).

As mentioned earlier, RIT Croatia and its partners will facilitate some co-op opportunities in the USA. The other option for a co-op in the USA is an independent placement where you find the co-op on your own. You are encouraged to take these opportunities, but should notify the Career Services Office of your decision. If you wish to go and work in the USA you need to go through a visa sponsor agency – this is not an option but a must. The Career Services Office assists with processing the visa documentation and communicating with a visa sponsor agency and the employer. In case you have a preference for a company you would like to work for, but are unsure of how to approach them, you are advised to visit the Career Services Office to seek assistance in the search process.

6.3. Self-owned and family business

If you have your own business or family business, you are able to do your co-op there, but it is highly recommended that you look for other options and gain experience elsewhere. The experience and contacts gained at different companies will be valuable in running and developing your own or family business in the future. If you decide to do your co-op in the family business, your responsibility is to obey all the co-op requirements as if you were doing your co-op with another employer.

Please note that any self-owned businesses have to be approved and you will not be able to register those placements if the approval process is missing. For more details, please make sure to visit Career Services Office in a timely manner.

The Career Services Office will pay special attention to checking up on students doing a co-op in their own or family business.

6.4. Co-op interview procedure

As previously mentioned, you may find a co-op through the Career Services Office and on your own. Whichever option you choose, the same rules apply when it comes to interviews:

- You should apply and accept the interview only when sincerely interested in a position with the employer;
- Provide accurate information on qualifications and interests. Never falsify data such as GPA, academic major, coursework completed or extracurricular activities;
- Acknowledge invitations for on-site interviews promptly, whether you accept or reject them and accept such invitations only when seriously considering a position;

- You should never cancel interviews with insufficient time for the slot to be filled by another student. This behavior is damaging to your own reputation, adversely affects other RIT Croatia students, and wastes the employer's time;
- Notify the Career Service Office, at least 24 hours in advance, if you cannot make an on-campus interview appointment or employer presentation;
- You may reschedule an interview by contacting the Career Service Office at least 24 hours prior to the interview; however, the potential to reschedule is subject to availability;
- Notify employers at least 24 hours in advance if you must cancel or reschedule the interview;
- Not showing up for an interview is not an option and is subject to disciplinary measure set by the Student Ombudsperson and the Associate Dean.

6.5. Work term placement responsibilities

Student employees are representatives of RIT Croatia and are expected to act in a manner consistent with the mission and goals of RIT Croatia and their department of employment.

You as a student employee are expected to be punctual, reliable, dress appropriately and perform work in a satisfactory manner. Disciplinary action will be taken in the instance when you do not fulfill your contractual obligations, or if you are fired for disciplinary reasons. Disciplinary cases are referred to the Students Ombudsperson and the Associate Dean for review. If you are having troubles with your co-op placement, you should notify the Career Services Office before making any decisions (ie. quitting the job).

6.6. Work term arrangements

When planning the co-op, you should note that instructors expect you to be available for the full semester to fulfill all course requirements. Thus, you should not schedule the start of a co-op until after final exams (please refer to the Academic calendar for details). Before signing a co-op contract you should make sure it allows you to return to school before the start of the academic term. If you sign a co-op contract that will cause you to be late in returning to school, you must contact all instructors individually for approval and make arrangements to cover the missed material. Only instructors can allow you to miss the classes and should be notified if this is the case early in advance (during the course of the summer and not in the week when the new academic year begins). You should also expect to be considered absent for missed classes and to have your grades penalized as a result of your absence.

6.7. While employed standards

The following are some typical expectations both RIT Croatia and the employer have of student's work behavior:

- You must report to work regularly and punctually;
- Be an enthusiastic and productive employee. If you must be absent from work, call your employer prior to your starting time that day or a day prior;
- Be sure to abide by work regulations as defined by your employer;
- You are expected to dress appropriately for the work environment and employer expectations;
- You are expected to conduct yourself in a professional and businesslike manner;
- Consult your supervisor if unsure of procedures or expectations on the job or about any conflicts or concerns related to the work place;

- You are encouraged to periodically seek feedback from supervisors concerning job performance;
- When you complete a project, you should advise your supervisor and ask for additional work.

If you need advice on how to handle a situation on the job, consult with the Career Service Office. There is one thing you have to remember: while working on co-op you are actually showing whether you are a good fit for a certain company. The impression you leave will stay and follow you for a long time- so make sure to act professionally and open the doors to a successful future.

7. COOPERATIVE EDUCATION UNDERSTANDING AGREEMENT

The cooperative education handbook has been designed to answer important questions you might have in regards the cooperative education program at RIT Croatia.

You should read the whole document to gain deep understanding of requirements and policies. To summarize the requirements of the RIT Croatia cooperative education program, please see following:

- I understand the importance of attending the Career Advising sessions;
- I understand the importance of attending the networking opportunities (workshops, guest speakers, Career Education Day and others);
- I understand that the co-op program is mandatory for every student;
- I understand that the co-op program has to be related to my field of study;
- I understand that I am not granted the co-op: the responsibility of finding and completing a co-op rests with me;
- I understand that a co-op has to be planned ahead and approved on behalf of the Career Services Office prior to the actual start of the program;
- IB and IT/WMC students: I understand that I am eligible to start my 1st co-op block once I have earned a minimum of 55 credits and that it is my responsibility to check my credit standings and advise Career Services Office accordingly;
- I understand that I am not eligible for a co-op while on academic suspension or LOA
- I understand that I have to follow the academic schedule to make sure that co-op start/end date does not overlap with the academic obligations: meaning that I should not schedule the start of co-op until after final exams and make sure that the co-op contract allows me to return to school before the start of the academic semester;
- I am familiar with the fact that I cannot be registered for the classes and co-op at the same time (during regular semester, May master and/or Summer semester) and that any work I do throughout the year (while I am scheduled for classes during the regular semester) cannot be counted towards a registered co-op;
- I understand that when working on co-op, I am an ambassador for RIT Croatia, thus it is crucial that I fulfill my contractual obligations and act professionally;
- I understand that my last semester at RIT Croatia has to be academic, not cooperative education;
- I am aware that in order to receive my BS degree I have to fulfill all academic and co-op requirements before the last academic semester at RIT Croatia:
I am aware of the absolute minimum working hours required for every program:

Two co-op blocks required for International Business and IT/WMC program (first after Sophomore year and second after Junior year)

Three co-op blocks required for Hospitality and Tourism Management program (after every academic year)

A minimum of ten weeks at 40 hours per week and 8 hours per day (a total of 400 working hours during 10 weeks) is required for every single co-op block:

Total 800 working hours required for International Business and IT/WMC program

Total 1200 working hours required for Hospitality and Tourism Management program

- I understand that every student receives a grade for a registered co-op. Based on the employer evaluation and co-op requirements, I can receive two grades: “S”-satisfactory or “F”-failure. I will receive grade “S” if the minimum co-op requirements have been met and the employer evaluation is satisfactory. I will receive grade “F” if the minimum co-op requirements have not been met, if employer evaluation is unsatisfactory or if the Career Services Office witnesses that during a co/op check I am not working at my registered coop (at the registered place and time);
- I understand if (for any reason) I plan to change the co-op placement during the course of co-op semester, I need to advise the Career Services Office beforehand for the approval;
- I understand if I change the co-op placement during the course of co-op semester, the pause between two placements cannot be longer than working 5 days and that I need to extend my co-op in order to fulfill 10 weeks of the co-op requirement.
- I am aware of the fact that if Career Services Office conducts a co-op check and observes that I am working for the company/ do not find me at the registered location this will result in the co-op being invalid and I will receive „F“ grade for my co-op;
- I understand that receiving an „F“ means that I will have to repeat the cooperative education prior to my final academic semester at RIT Croatia;
- I understand that accepting an offer of employment is a serious personal and professional obligation. Failure to honor these obligations reflects poorly on me and on the entire institution;
- I am aware of the fact that student who accepts a co-op position and later “changes his mind” or does not report to work will be subject to disciplinary action from RIT Croatia. Terms of such disciplinary measure will be set by the Student Ombudsperson and the Associate Dean.
